TRANSPORTATION IN HONOLULU

TheCab. One of the prominent cab services in Honolulu. The number is 808-422-2222.

Uber and Lyft. Both operate in Honolulu and appear to have similar wait times, but surge pricing (the times when the fare is raised due to high demand) is less frequent on Lyft.

TheBus. This is Honolulu’s public bus system. A single adult fare is $2.50 and if you ask for a transfer you can get another ride out of it until it expires (typically 2 hours from when you paid the fare). The bus system is hooked into Google Maps, which is the easiest way to determine which bus you need to take and from where. However, the arrival times provided by Google Maps are often inaccurate. A better way to obtain more up-to-date times based on GPS information is to use the HEA real-time bus arrival lookup at:

http://hea.thebus.org

You can look up stops by intersection as well as the stop number, which is (usually) displayed on the signpost at the stop. A few important ones:

- Stop #4549, marked “E” on the map, is about 200 meters east of the conference venue (marked “C” on the map) on East-West Road immediately in front of the Kennedy Theater, and is a convenient place to catch the number 13 bus which goes down to Waikiki.
- Stop #863 is directly opposite #4549 on East-West Road and is a good place to catch the 6 to the Manoa Marketplace, where there’s food and shopping.
- Stop #983 is on the west side of campus and is marked “F” on the map. It’s a convenient place to catch the A Express which goes to Downtown Honolulu.

A more detailed listing of all the bus routes to and from campus can be found here:

http://www.thebus.org/Fare/U-Pass_UHM_Flyer.pdf